Piedmont Machine offers complete box build assemblies and sub assemblies to diverse industries, including electrical, pneumatics, and hydraulics. Our box build assembly capabilities facilitate the integration of metal parts and mechanical sub assemblies based on your custom assembly requirements. OEMs using our contract assembly services can lower their overall production costs as well as reduce lead-time to market.

From simple to complex components, we offer complete box build assembly services for a range of OEM parts, including ATV and agricultural equipment components. With in-house precision machining, product assembly, and testing capabilities, Piedmont Machine serves as a one-stop shop, fulfilling your entire contract manufacturing requirements. All custom manufacturing and assembly processes comply with ISO, Mil-Spec, and ASTM standards.

Our assembly team is experienced in integrating RoHS compliant electrical components such as lighting fixtures. In addition to automotive and general machinery components, we also specialize in assembling welded parts. Depending on custom packaging requirements, Piedmont Machine labels, packages, and delivers final assemblies to customer-specified locations. Designed to provide quality services to customers, our Kan-Ban, Lean Manufacturing, and JIT programs enable us to achieve an average of 95% on-time deliveries.
